A perfect day for Saskatoon’s The Mudd Brothers Band to perform for the deck jam on Saturday, September 19th.

TAVERN TURNS DECK INTO COOL WATERING HOLE

By Glenda Pryor

Big Mur’s Tavern has been Dundurn’s neighborhood pub for the past twenty-six years where people meet to visit, have a meal, and congregate to celebrate special occasions. As one walks through the doors, they will see a few notable changes.

Changes to the establishment were made during the COVID-19 lockdown in March of this year. And with their teens at home after the schools closed their doors, the Grady’s - Gary and Sharon - retreated to the Tavern. What began as cleaning out the backyard, soon turned into taking the outdoor deck area to a whole new level.

Years earlier, when Gary lived upstairs in his single days, he had built a private roof-top deck. The idea of expansion became a reality when they decided to dismantle the roof-top deck and use the lumber to expand the Tavern’s outside area, saving them thousands of dollars for the renovation.

It was a pain staking job as Gary hauled the lumber down to the bar area. And the plan to haul away the old vehicles in the backyard? Well, the vehicles were transformed into seating areas on the deck; along with newly acquired vintage vehicles, which Gary, and Sharon re-designed.

The revived deck has become quite an attraction, drawing people in from Saskatoon and the out-lining areas. There is lots to look at as one ventures onto the deck, as it boasts every imaginable influence from buses, semi cabins, a firetruck, street signs, and satellite strobe lights.

Since reopening in June, Gary stated, “It’s been the best summer in 26 years! We’ve hired more staff from the community, doubling our employees.” They have also revamped the food menu and to keep the buzz going this summer, they introduced live entertainment on Sunday afternoons. With summer ending, September marked the last month of live music entertainment. But who knows what Gary and Sharon will think of next to keep drawing people in for the winter!

LIBRARIAN'S CORNER - BOOK REVIEW

A hilarious and heartwarming New York Times bestselling novel, "This 48-karat beach read is crazy fun." —Entertainment Weekly

When New Yorker Rachel Chu agrees to spend the summer in Singapore with her boyfriend, Nicholas Young, she envisions a humble family home and quality time with the man she hopes to marry.

But Nick has failed to give his girlfriend a few key details. One, that his childhood home looks like a palace; two, that he grew up riding in more private planes than cars; and three, that he just happens to be the country's most eligible bachelor. On Nick's arm, Rachel may as well have a target on her back.

In the first book of this new series, author Elise Allen brings to life a fantastical world filled with high-stakes adventure, incredible twists, and all the spark and humor of sisterhood.

In the kingdom of Kaloon, nothing is quite as it seems....

"Y-y-y-you," he stammered, and Flissa turned to see he'd gone ashen. "T-t-t-two of you!" Uh-oh.

Flissa reached up and checked. Sure enough, her hood had fallen off.

Their secret was out.

Princesses Flissa and Sara are even closer than most twins. In fact, most of the kingdom thinks they're the same person.

LOOKING FORWARD TO DOING BUSINESS IN DUNDURN

By Glenda Pryor

Dundurn's one and only mechanical garage has opened its doors again. Dylan Kochan has rented the space from Ahmed Deen, (known as Deen) owner of Modern Motors in Saskatoon.

Dundurn Auto Repair was run by Al, Deen's father, for years until Al retired because of health reasons.

Kochan, lives in Corman Park, and finds the drive to Dundurn after work a short distance from home. Kochan currently works full-time in Saskatoon and brings to Dundurn seven years experience as a mechanic.

His shop is open evenings and weekends and states he has already met a number of Dundurn residents since opening his doors on September 1st.

Currently, he's working on a vehicle with a damaged frame, he took the motor out to put into another vehicle. As the motor is still in excellent shape.

He is hoping to have advertising signs up in a month's time, so when people drive by they will stop in for oil changes, tire repairs and any other mechanical needs.

Just in time to swap out your summer tires to winter tires! Welcome Dylan.

affected the delay as businesses were in lockdown and the committee could only keep their fingers crossed that the painting would be done this year and were relieved when Kelsey Pipeline called to set a date.

The weather held out for Friday's job of painting the shells rider green. A member of the committee stated once the painting is completed, we can proceed with installing the flooring which will be covered with turf purchased from Taylor Field.

WORK COMMENCES ON PAINT THE HELMETS GREEN PROJECT

Thursday, September 24th marked a day of elation for the "Paint the Helmets Green" committee, as Kelsey Pipeline started the prep work of sandblasting and priming the inside and outside of the helmets along Hwy 11. Although the committee was hoping the work would commence in April of this year unfortunately, COVID-19

Painting the helmets and installing the flooring isn't the end of the project. The committee will be active until the spring of 2021, as they have yet to procure decals which will be applied to the helmets, and install a flag pole in preparation of a ribbon cutting ceremony at which time the Rider flag will be raised.

Returning Officer

SUNSHINE MEADOWS WELCOME PARTNERSHIP OF ASPAIRE INVESTMENT HOLDING LTD

With Covid restrictions in mind, guests mingled before Aspaire Investment’s ground-breaking ceremony for The Morning Village development.

Brian Collins spoke on behalf of Sunshine Meadows Development and gave a brief history on the parcel and thanked the town council for their support and openness in working with developers to help grow the town over the years. Mayor Per Vinding unfortunately had another engagement, however, Councillor Fred Wilson spoke and welcomed the new development and provided guests the history of Dundurn and spoke about the positive aspects of the town and area.

The Morning Village will be designed in the style of a European Village that mimics less of a suburbia feel and more of a bustling high-density community that facilitates walking traffic whereby commercial and residential is mixed. The goal is to live, work and play in The Morning Village with a future amusement park and hotel to not only attract tourism but new residents. The goal is to not have to travel 10 km to buy your groceries or to meet friends for coffee but to have those amenities within a minute’s reach by walking or bike riding and to create jobs that keep residents in the community.

While Aspaire realizes the project is aggressive especially in the current poor economy, with the consulting help of Deloitte and Touche they believe they have a winning concept that will have competitive prices to Saskatoon and includes different housing styles for all price points including a few high-end executive homes later in the development stage. The new show homes are slated to be finished inside and out by the end of the year and the town planner and engineer are working with Aspaire’s design team on the Village’s concept plan details.

Letter to the Editor:

Elections should never be taken lightly. The composition of a Council determines policy, and that directly impacts the growth, health, and livability for those of us that reside there. I’m worried though in the future of small-town elections and for those that might be thinking of throwing their hat in the ring.

Local social media can be entertaining but it can also be a very detrimental and in a small town even more so. The faceless ability to make spiteful comments that are most likely riddled with more falsehoods than truth may stem those who may really have the background and connections to help a community prosper and grow. Living in a small town where you bump into your neighbour often and where your children and extended family all join in local places, doesn’t make wanting to put yourself into a thankless job very appealing. Why would anyone want to take the chance to be ridiculed on a public forum and expose their families to such bullying? You know it will happen, you can’t possibly please everyone.

Over the years you may have less people inclined to even bother running for council because it’s just not worth the hassle. I can honestly see the future of the area being governed by a regional government or district as less and less will want to step into the flames of small-town politics, but we’ll see.

I for one would like to thank the current council for their public service and for the courage to step up help their community. Most of the dirt roads are gone, the community feels viable, there seems to be new interest in development, houses always seem to sell with new people wanting to move here and we’ve had great social events in the community. I think they did good. Reasonable people know that you can’t please everyone with their singular wants but must look at the community as a whole. My hope is that sanity prevails at the voting booth and whomever is on the ballot that you stop and think about not only their credentials but also how they conduct themselves in the public forum and ask yourself; is this who I really want to represent my town to other dignitaries? developers? potential new business owners?

Thank you, JR

Dundurn Fire Department

October 4 to 10 is Fire Prevention Week with this year's emphasis on "Serve Up Safety in the Kitchen".

Cooking is the #1 cause of home fires and home fire injuries. Unattended cooking is the leading cause of fires in the kitchen. Scald burns are the second leading cause of all burn injuries. Hot liquids from coffee and even microwaved soup can cause devastating injuries.

Kitchen fires can start and spread in seconds. Stay in the kitchen when cooking, especially when using grease or when cooking food at high temperatures. When using the stove, wear tight-fitting clothes or rolled up sleeves. Loose or dangling clothing can easily catch fire.

Keep combustible items such as dishcloths, paper towels and pot holders a safe distance from the stove. As a rule, if it's not a pot or pan, it doesn't belong on the stovetop.

Turn pot-handles inward toward the back of the stove. Keep proper-fitting lids close by for each pot or pan you have on the stove. If a pot or pan catches fire, put a lid on it to smother the flames.

Do not attempt to move a flaming pot or pan away from the stove, as that may fan the flames and spread the fire. Never try to put a grease fire out with water.

If possible, cover the pan with a lid to smother the flames; use baking soda on shallow grease fires. If you can't control the fire immediately get yourself and your family out fast, and call 9-1-1. If you sustain a burn, run cool water over the wound for three to five minutes. Seek medical attention if the burn is severe.

Let's not forget about our Smoke alarms. Check your alarms often to ensure they are in good working order. If you have battery-operated smoke alarms, It is recommended to replace the batteries twice a year.

Recently Dundurn Fire was surprised to find out not everyone knows when to call 9-1-1. Sask911 system provides province-wide access to 9-1-1 emergency call taking. 9-1-1 calling is available from landlines and payphones in the province, and from cell phones and wireless devices if they are in range of a cell tower.

9-1-1 is for police, fire or medical emergencies when immediate action is required for someone's health, safety or property is in jeopardy or a crime is in progress. 9-1-1 call takers and dispatchers will get you the help you need. When a 9-1-1 call taker answers, they will ask you if you need "police" "fire" or "ambulance." Listen carefully, speak clearly and try to remain calm. Stay on the line and follow instructions. The 9-1-1 call taker will stay on the line with you to make sure your call is conveyed to the agency or agencies you need. Don't hang up until the call taker says it's okay to do so. Know your location at all times and communicate it when you are asked. Please Stay Healthy and Stay Safe.
